The Future of Mission in Europe

A consultation for churches and mission organisations based in the UK and working in Europe

held at

Redcliffe College

Horton Road, Gloucester, GL1 3PT

from 12 noon on 5th January until 2pm on 6th January 2011

Mission in Europe – a unique gathering

Following on from the helpful consultations over the last four years, we will again gather as British churches and mission organisations working in the wider European context. Join other leaders who are exploring mission in Europe with its many unique and changing facets, to share information on current activities, focus and aims, as well as future plans and dreams.

The conference will run from 12 noon on Wednesday 5th January 2011 until 2pm on Thursday 6th January. The main purpose of the conference is to network with others doing similar work and to challenge and encourage one another. In addition, a number of leading missional thinkers and practitioners from across Europe will stimulate your thinking under the title:

Futures for mission in Europe: Emergent generations in their context

How to Book

The consultation will once again be held at Redcliffe College. Directions and a map can be downloaded from their website www.redcliffe.org.

Numbers are limited (booking deadline 23rd December) so please book promptly to secure a place. You can book using the booking form overleaf or from the website www.globalconnections.co.uk/europe11. Additional copies of this leaflet can be downloaded from this website

The cost is £75, which will cover food and accommodation. Meals provided are lunch and dinner on 5th January, and breakfast and lunch on 6th January, as well as tea and coffee during the breaks.

General Information

Speaker

Sylvia Collins-Mayo is an expert on the attitudes of young people to religion and her expertise and writing is a key resource for many youth ministers. She has published 'Making Sense of Generation Y- the world view of 15-25 year olds' and 'Young People's Spirituality and the meaning of Prayer'. Sylvia researches and lectures on the Sociology of Religion at Kingston University.

Engaging with the emergent: We will have presentations from some exciting and innovative on-the-ground mission initiatives where the issues Sylvia raises are being tackled in mainland Europe.

Worship and Prayer

Ian Nicholson from the 24/7 Prayer Movement will be with us to lead prayer throughout the conference .

Special Interest Groups & Small Group Discussions

Time will be allocated in the programme for interacting with others who share similar interests and/or areas of working as well as exploring in more detail issues raised in the main presentations.
